

Danaher Corporation Completes Transaction Between Veeder-Root Subsidiary and USTMAN Technologies

PRNewswire
WASHINGTON

Danaher Corporation announced today that it closed the previously announced transaction between Danaher's wholly-owned subsidiary, Veeder-Root Company, and USTMAN Technologies, Inc. The transaction was completed in accordance with the terms of the asset purchase agreement.

USTMAN Technologies, Inc., headquartered in Lakewood, Colorado, is a provider of compliance information for underground storage tank owners.

Veeder-Root, headquartered in Simsbury, Connecticut, is a leading supplier of fuel management solutions.

Additional information on Veeder-Root is available at www.veeder.com.
Additional information on USTMAN is available at www.ustman.com.

Danaher Corporation is a leading manufacturer of Process/Environmental Controls and Tools and Components (<http://www.danaher.com/>).

SOURCE: Danaher Corporation

Contact: Patrick W. Allender, Chief Financial Officer of Danaher Corporation, 202-828-0850

Website: <http://www.danaher.com/>
<http://www.veeder.com/>
<http://www.ustman.com/>

<https://investors.danaher.com/2000-09-22-Danaher-Corporation-Completes-Transaction-Between-Veeder-Root-Subsidiary-and-USTMAN-Technologies>